Our November monthly luncheon took place at Cal Poly Pomona in collaboration with the SoCal ITE’s section. In total, there were 102 people in attendance with 41 registered attendees through our RSBITE section. Attendees were able to enjoy a delicious lunch prepared by the Kellogg Restaurant after giving their self-introductions allowing them to state their respective alma maters. Announcements were given by SoCal ITE President Neelam Dorman and RSBITE President John Kerenyi. Western District President Carlos Ortiz also gave a brief update of the financials and provided announcements on the upcoming ITE events such as the 2015 Western District Meeting taking place in Las Vegas, NV from July 19-22.

The speaker for the lunch meeting was the City of Pomona’s very own Mr. Ronald Chen. He gave an informative presentation on how he and the City of Pomona applied the “5 E’s” to a local project designated to alleviate congestion and improve safety around the college campuses. He explained the “5 E’s” is an acronym for five principles which are evaluation, engineering, education, encouragement, and enforcement. These principles were applied to the intersection improvement project at Temple Avenue and South Campus Drive in the City of Pomona. The City evaluated the several other intersections in the area and identified that the Temple Avenue intersection received the highest volume of traffic over other major street intersections such as Mission Blvd., Garey Ave., Holt Ave., and Towne Ave. He stated that the second “E”, engineering, occurred when the city had to make improvements to relieve congestion on South Campus Dr. by creating a bus turnout and improving the intersection infrastructure such as the fiber optic cables, wireless communications, hard drives, and several other items for the Temple Ave. intersection. He explained the education and encouragement for the project came with providing students that attend Cal Poly Pomona and Mt. Sac with less congestion as they commute to their institutions and also encouraging them to walk to their campuses. The final “E”, enforcement, was applied to the project as Pomona Police monitored the intersection after the implementation of the completed project. Mr. Chen stated that the Pomona Police reported no violations at the Temple Ave. and South Campus Dr. intersection.

In December, RSBITE also participated in a collaboration with SoCal ITE and OCTEC for the annual Holiday Mixer. The mixer took place at the Los Coyotes Country Club in the City of Buena Park. It also took on a Casino theme where attendees were able to play dice and card games for chips that were redeemable for raffle tickets. A generous number of raffle prizes were won by the attendees. Some prizes included a 29” flat screen TV, an Apple iPad mini, an AppleTV, a Keurig coffee brewer, and vacation passes to Las Vegas, NV. Many laughs and memories were exchanged which always constitutes for a good time!
